Who can apply?*

The Fellowship is open to candidates who have received their PhD degrees no earlier than November 1, 2019, in all countries except Israel. PhD candidates may apply if they complete their dissertation defence successfully no later than June 1, 2023. All nationalities may apply, except for Israeli citizens and residents. Candidates who commenced a postdoctoral or an academic position in Israel prior to September 1, 2022, may not apply. However, those affected by the Russia-Ukraine conflict and have sought refuge in Israel from February 24 to September 1, 2022, are eligible to apply for the Fellowship.

*Please note that candidates are required to have an academic sponsor, who is a faculty member at an eligible Israeli academic institution.

How much is the Fellowship?

The Fellowship is made up of a basic stipend of ILS 168,000 per academic year, with an additional ILS 20,000 granted annually for research expenses and research-related travel (altogether approximately EUR 53,000 in total).

When does the Fellowship begin?

The starting date of the Fellowship is October 2023, which is the beginning of the 2023–24 Israeli academic year. However, candidates are permitted to start their Fellowship as early as June 2023, and no later than March 2024.

How long does the Fellowship last?

The Fellowship is offered for two years. Renewal for a third year will be considered favourably based on a competitive evaluation process.

How many Fellowships are offered?

Up to 24 Fellowships are offered per year.
